THE GRADUATE PROGRAM AT WEST CHESTER

On January 8, 1959, the State Council of Education of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania formally authorized the West Chester State College to inaugurate a program of graduate studies after September 1, 1959. The Graduate Program at West Chester, therefore, was initiated with the opening of the fall semester, 1959.

The degree awarded upon successful completion of all requirements is Master of Education. Because requirements, of necessity, vary from one department to another, the student should check carefully the requirements listed under the department in which he is interested.

The West Chester State College is fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools; the National Council of Accreditation of Teacher Education; the National Association of Schools of Music; and the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Any requests for information concerning admission to the Graduate Program should be directed to the Director of Admissions. Additional bulletins and application forms will be sent upon request.

ADMINISTRATION

The Graduate Program is under the direction of the administrative officers of the College; the Academic Council of the College; the Graduate Committee; and the administrative officers of the Graduate Program.

The Graduate Committee performs the following functions: it establishes all major policies of the administration of the program; it reviews all applications for admission, requests for special considerations, and recommendations of the major departments; it acts as the Executive Council for the college administration on all matters related to the graduate program.

The administrative officers of the Graduate Program are the Director of Graduate Studies and the chairmen of the various departments. The chairman of each department is the administrative officer of the Graduate Program for the work of his department. The faculty advisers in the Graduate Program function directly under their respective department chairmen. Graduate students having problems in their major field should consult first their advisers who, in turn, consult with the department chairman involved.

OBJECTIVES

The specific objectives of the graduate program at West Chester are to increase the competency of teachers and educational workers in the area of elementary education, secondary education, music education, and health and physical education; to provide incentive to continue professional growth; and to enable the graduate student to assume greater responsibilities in his specific field.

More specifically, the objectives are as follows:

- I. Areas of Specialization:
 - A. To provide an opportunity for advanced study in a given area of field of specialization.
 - B. To acquaint the student with basic research techniques and their use during his first year of graduate study.
 - C. To enable the student to further his knowledge of allied and complementary fields.
 - D. To provide a further understanding of the teaching and learning process.
 - E. To enable the student to carry on studies in campus laboratory situations.
- II. The Area of General Education:
 - A. To afford the student an opportunity to pursue his individual interests in subject fields other than his field of specialization.
 - B. To enable the student to strengthen and enrich his competency in broad cultural area.
 - C. To develop an understanding of local, national, and international affairs as they relate to the functions of the school.

Because the entire graduate program at this college has been constructed to serve in-service teachers desiring to improve their professional competency, persons who want advanced degrees for other reasons should not apply.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

As can be seen below, all applicants for admission fall into six categories. Because of this fact, admission requirements naturally vary.

Regardless of category, the applicant for graduate work at West Chester should initiate his application procedure as early as possible by writing directly to the Director of Admissions. He should then execute and return all forms as early as possible. The student applying for admission with advanced standing should procure all transcripts as early as possible.

I. Applicants for Credit Work

An applicant for credit work is one who desires to take courses for credit toward certification or for some other valid reason.

To be admitted to credit work the applicant must meet the following requirements:

- (1) The applicant must hold a bachelor's degree from a college or university accredited by national and regional accrediting associations.
- (2) The applicant must have an undergraduate quality point average of at least 2.5 on the basis of A=4.0, or he must be able to prove his academic competence in some other manner deemed appropriate by the Graduate Council. Generally, the Graduate Council will require applicants whose honor point average falls below 2.5 to make an acceptable grade in the Graduate Record Examination or some similar test.
- (3) The applicant must evidence academic, personal, and professional qualities deemed acceptable by the administrators of the graduate program and the department concerned.
- (4) The applicant must be able to demonstrate clearly that he will be a stronger professional person for having pursued graduate work. Therefore, only professionally minded persons should apply for admission. Students admitted to credit work may later make application for degree candidacy by satisfying the requirements for the degree work program. In no case, however, will such students receive more than fifteen semester credits for work taken before the time of admission to candidacy. Application to pursue credit studies is subject to final approval by the Graduate Council.

II. Conditional Admission

A conditional admission applicant is (1) one whose record shows deficiencies in the requirements listed for degree studies or (2) one who claims the ability to satisfy the requirements but is unable to submit supporting evidence (transcripts, records, etc.) at the time of registration.

Applicants whose records show deficiencies (courses lacking average below 2.5, etc.) may be admitted conditionally by action of the Graduate Council under the conditions stated in points #2 and #3 under "Applicants for Degree Studies."

Applicants whose records show deficiencies (courses lacking average below 2.5 etc.) may be admitted conditionally subject to final approval by the Graduate Committee. In no case may such conditional admission be extended beyond one semester, and in no case may credit for course work be awarded until all supporting evidence has been evaluated by the faculty concerned.

III. Applicants for Degree Studies

An applicant for degree studies is one who desires to earn a master's degree at this institution.

To be admitted to degree studies, the applicant must meet the requirements listed below at the time of initial application. If the initial application is approved, the student will be granted provisional approval to work toward the degree. Final approval to work toward the degree will be granted when the student is admitted to candidacy. To be admitted to candidacy, the student must make formal application sometime between the completion of six and fifteen semester credits.

Admission to candidacy will be given by the major department concerned after it (1) has examined the student's course work and the written statements of faculty members and/or (2) has required the student to pass a qualifying examination. Approval by the major department is subject to final approval by the Graduate Committee.

Initial requirements for admission to degree work follow:

- (1) The applicant must hold a bachelor's degree from a college or university accredited by national and regional accrediting associations or by the appropriate accrediting agency.
- (2) The applicant's undergraduate program must approximate that of this institution. If the applicant has undergraduate deficiencies, he may be admitted conditionally by action of the Graduate Committee, providing (a) the deficiencies do not total more than six semester hours; (b) the applicant must earn a grade of "B" or higher in the undergraduate courses which remove the deficiency; and (c) no graduate credit may be given for removing the deficiency.
- (3) The applicant must have an undergraduate quality point average of at least 2.5, on the basis of A=4.0, or he must be able to prove his academic competence in some other manner deemed appropriate by the Graduate Council. Generally, the Graduate Council will require applicants whose honor point averages fall below 2.5 to make an acceptable grade in the Graduate Record Examinations or some similar test.
- (4) The applicant must evidence academic, personal and professional qualities deemed acceptable by the administrators of the graduate program and the department concerned.
- (5) The applicant must be able to demonstrate clearly that he will be a stronger professional person for having pursued graduate work. Therefore, only professionally minded persons should apply for admission.
- (6) The applicant must have had at least one year of full-time professional experience. In unusual cases, the Graduate Committee may waive this requirement.

IV. Applicants for Advanced Standing

An applicant for advanced standing is one who desires to transfer credits from another graduate school.

Such credits will be honored under the following conditions: (1) the credits must have been earned at an approved graduate school; (2) the maximum number may not exceed six; (3) the course grades must be at least "B"; (4) the courses involved must be essentially the same as graduate courses offered at this institution.

All requirements beyond the stipulated maximum of six semester credits must be satisfied at this institution.

V. Special Students

A special student is one whose case does not fall within any of the above categories. Instances of special students are: the student who is taking work for his own edification; the student who is undecided on his final goal; the student who is taking work to be transferred to another institution; the student who is taking courses for certification only.

Applications of special students are considered in terms of the individual case.

VI. Auditors

An auditor is one who, as the term implies, takes courses as a listener. He is not permitted to take any examinations. No credit of any type will be given for courses audited.

A student will be admitted as an auditor if the faculty of the graduate program are satisfied that his academic and professional backgrounds will enable him to pursue profitably the work of the desired course.

CREDIT BY TRANSFER

Applicants for admission with advanced standing may transfer a maximum of six semester credits from other approved graduate schools.

Such credits will be honored under the following conditions:

1. The credits must fall within the stipulated six-year time limit noted under the heading of Residence Requirements.
2. The course grade must be at least B.
3. The courses involved must be essentially the same as those offered at this institution.

In no case will a transfer student be given credit towards satisfying any requirements other than course requirements. This statement means that students may not transfer credit for comprehensive examination, admission to degree candidacy, or any other type of examination credit.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

In order to obtain the degree of Master of Education, the student must complete a minimum of 30 semester hours of credit in the areas listed below. The student, however, should not think of the master's degree in terms of semester credits. He should think, rather, in terms of meeting the standards as established by the Graduate Committee and by his major department.

The requirements stated below are the broad general requirements established by the Graduate Council. In addition to these requirements, each department has individual requirements. The student, therefore, should first familiarize himself with the requirements listed below. Then he should turn to the specific section in this bulletin which treats the requirements established by his major department.

Under a ruling of the State Council of Education, the student is required to take 12 semester credits in general or liberal education. These groups — the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences — should be incorporated into the student's program with the advice and approval of the major department.

RESEARCH REPORT AND THESIS

Every student has the choice of doing a research report or a thesis. The research report or the thesis carries one, two, or three semester credits. The decision to do either a research report or a thesis is subject to the approval of the adviser who will consider the question on the basis of the student's needs.

The research report must be aimed at developing the student professionally in his major field. While the thesis must have the same basic aim, it is much more extensive and hence more demanding of the student's time and abilities.

The Graduate Committee has defined the research report and thesis as follows:

A research report is a written record of a scientific investigation to determine the facts of a condition; hence it is essentially a report on a problem. It demands of the researcher a knowledge of the techniques of research and scientific accuracy.

A thesis is the written account of an exhaustive research to support or refute a belief or a hypothesis. It differs from the research report in that it is more comprehensive, and more generally demanding of the writer's knowledge, skills, and general powers of scholarship.

The student who plans to work eventually toward a degree should make his decision early regarding the research report or thesis. In no case should he defer the matter until a late moment in his course work because the work involved in the report or thesis will undoubtedly extend over two or more semesters.

In thinking of the research report or thesis, the student should take special note of the three statements listed below. These statements represent official policy of the Graduate Committee regarding the research report or thesis.

1. The department concerned must approve the research report or thesis as a challenging, soundly executed professional task, worthy of master's level achievement.
2. A detailed outline of the research report or thesis must be approved by the Graduate Council before the student is authorized to begin his investigation.
3. The research report or thesis must be approved by the Department of English for language usage. The Department of English will serve as a reading committee only. In no case is the Department of English to be thought of as an editing committee.

The student must register his decision to do either a research report or a thesis at the completion of the course entitled Methods and Materials of Research. Thus the student's later selection of courses will be affected in part by his decision regarding this matter.

COURSES REQUIRED IN ALL CURRICULA

As shown under the heading "Course Requirements," there are three courses required of all candidates for the master's degree: Methods and Materials of Research, Seminar in Educational Foundations, Seminar in the Humanities. Descriptions of these courses follow:

Ed. 510 — S.Ed. 500 — H.Ed. 500 —

Mus. 500 Methods and Materials of Research

2 s. c.

A course designed to acquaint the student with the basic techniques and procedures in research. This course treats the major types of research and the methods for locating, evaluating, and interpreting evidence. It also includes the actual preparation of a research paper. This course is given by curriculum (elementary, secondary, music, health and physical education) in order to meet the needs of the specific fields.

Ed. 510 Educational Foundations

2 s. c.

The history of education; factual history integrated with educational philosophy and thought; the evolution of present day educational theories and issues from early times.

Hu. 500 Seminar in the Humanities

2 s. c.

This is a composite course composed of three major fields of subject matter: (1) art and architecture, (2) music, (3) literature.

This material is closely correlated to show the relationship of the three fields to each other and to the central theme of a general philosophy connecting these fields to life. The instructors teaching this course develop specific material in concert to establish an over-all unity.

COURSE OFFERINGS OF DEPARTMENTS

EDUCATION

The Department of Education offers professional courses for students of all curricula. In this capacity, it will offer the electives listed below.

For students majoring in elementary education, however, the Department of Education has constructed the specific curriculum which follows the general electives.

All students majoring in elementary education should consider the Department of Education as their major department. All elementary education majors will be assigned to an adviser in the Department of Education.

Electives	Semester Hours
Ed. 580 History & Philosophy of Education	2
Ed. 502 Principles of Curriculum Development in the Secondary School	2
Ed. 590 School Law	2
Ed. 562* Organization and Administration of the Sec. School Guidance Program	2
Ed. 506 The Junior High School	2
Ed. 508 The Core Curriculum	2
Ed. 564* Homeroom Guidance in the Jr. High School	2

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

The candidate for the master's degree with a major in elementary education must meet the general course requirements stated on page 7. In addition, he must meet specific requirements established by the Department of Education. All course requirements for the elementary education curriculum have been arranged in the outline form below. By following this outline, therefore, the student can satisfy general course requirements and Department of Education requirements.

	Semester Credits
I. Area of General Education:	6-12
A. Required:	4
Hum. 500 Seminar in the Humanities	2
Educ. 510 Educational Foundations	2
B. Electives:	2-8
(To be chosen under advisement)

* Courses so marked will serve to meet requirements for Certification in Guidance.

II. *Area of Specialization:18-24

A. Required Courses:

Group 1. (Degree Candidates whose undergraduate major was elementary education)

Edu. 551	Seminar in Child Development and Behavior	2
Edu. 550	Advanced Educational Psychology	2
Edu. 501	Foundations of Reading Instruction	2
Edu. 517	Curriculum Problems in Elementary Education ...	2

Group 2. (Degree Candidates whose undergraduate major was not elementary education)

Edu. 551, 553	Seminar in Child Development and Behavior	2 to 4
Edu. 550	Advanced Educational Psychology	2
Edu. 501	Foundations of Reading Instruction	2
Edu. 511	Unit Teaching in the Elementary School	2
Edu. 513	Teaching the Communication Skills	2

* Candidates for the master's degree with a major in Elementary Education must meet the requirements for a Provisional Certificate in Pennsylvania, or its equivalent, before being admitted to degree candidacy.

Area II. Specialization

B. ELECTIVES

Group 1. All electives must be chosen under advisement. Degree candidates are advised to take a minimum of two courses from Group 1.

Thesis or Research Report	1- 3
Electives	2- 5

Below are listed four groups of courses under the alphabetical headings A, B, C, D. Every major student must have a minimum of one course from each group, and he must have a minimum of eight courses from these four groups. In addition, he must be prepared to take any course deemed necessary by his adviser.

Group A

- 511 English Literary Criticism (1800-1920)
- 512 American Literary Criticism (1800-1920)
- 513 English Literary Movements
- 514 American Literary Movements

Group B

- 521 English Literature to Chaucer
- 522 Chaucer
- 523 Eighteenth Century Novel
- 524 British and Continental Short Story

Group C

- 531 Shakespeare's Predecessors in Drama
- 532 Advanced Shakespeare
- 533 Nineteenth Century Drama

Group D

- 541 Greek and Roman Literature in Translation
- 542 French Literature in Translation
- 543 Advanced Problems in Public Speaking
- 544 Problems of Speech Correction

GEOGRAPHY

The candidate for the master's degree with a major in geography must meet the general requirements as shown in the outline below, and he must meet the specific departmental course requirements as stated below the outline.

- Electives 2- 5

Before the student can be admitted to degree candidacy, he must have earned undergraduate credits as follows: two semesters of college chemistry; two semesters of college biology or general botany (plant science); and general zoology (animal science). Two semesters of college physics are highly desirable and may be demanded in the future for admission to candidacy.

A program of graduate courses in science must be selected from the electives listed below. Credits for corresponding graduate courses from other colleges and universities are acceptable up to a total of fifteen semester hours in the Science field in transfer according to the circumstances of the particular case.

Electives	Semester Credits
Sci. 500 Philosophy of Science	2

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

All course requirements for the health and physical education curriculum have been arranged in the outline form below. By following this outline, therefore, the student can satisfy general course requirements and Department of Health and Physical Education requirements.

I.	Area of General Education	12 s. c.
A.	Required:	4 s. c.
	Hu. 500 Seminar in Humanities	2 s. c.
	Ed. 510 Seminar in Educational Foundations	2 s. c.
B.	Electives:	8 s. c.
	Eight semester hours to be chosen under advisement
II.	Area of Specialization	18 s. c.
A.	Required:	6 s. c.
	H.E. 550 Foundations and Principles of Health, Physical Education and Recreation	2 s. c.
	H.E. 500 Methods and Materials of Research	2 s. c.
	H.E. 591 Seminar in Health, Physical Education and Recreation	2 s. c.
B.	Electives:
	To be taken as an adviser-planned program from these areas: (1) organization, administration and supervision; (2) programs, methods and evaluation; (3) health, applied physiology, adaptives and correctives; (4) intramural and interscholastic athletics; dance, gymnastics and aquatics; (5) safety education; and (6) recreation.
	Electives:
	H.E. 501 Advanced Rhythmical Foreign Gymnastics	2 s. c.
	H.E. 502 Elementary Physical Education Workshop	2 s. c.
	H.E. 503 Advanced Aquatics	2 s. c.
	H.E. 504 Dance in Education	2 s. c.
	H.E. 510 School and Community Recreation	2 s. c.
	H.E. 511 Field Problems in Recreation	2 s. c.
	H.E. 512 Outdoor Education Workshop	2 s. c.
	H.E. 520 Advanced Coaching	2 s. c.
	H.E. 521 Administration and Supervision of Interschool and Intramural Athletics	2 s. c.
	H.E. 530 Physiological and Psychological Bases of Motor Activity	2 s. c.
	H.E. 531 Adaptive Physical Education Workshop	2 s. c.
	H.E. 540 School Health Problems	2 s. c.
	H.E. 541 School-Community Health Education Workshop	3 s. c.
	H.E. 542 Health Instruction in the Elementary School	2 s. c.
	H.E. 550 Foundations and Principles of Health, Physical Edu- cation, and Recreation	2 s. c.
	H.E. 560 Contemporary Problems in Health, Physical Edu- cation, and Recreation	2 s. c.
	H.E. 561 Measurement and Evaluation in Health, Physical Education and Recreation	2 s. c.
	H.E. 562 Administrative and Supervisory Practices in Health, Physical Education, and Recreation	2 s. c.
	H.E. 570 Curriculum Development in Health and Physical Education	2 s. c.
	H.E. 580 Contemporary Practices in Safety Education	2 s. c.
C.	Research:
	H.E. 500 Methods and Materials of Research	2 s. c.
	Option I: Master Thesis*	3 s. c.
	Option II: Research Project*	1-3 s. c.

* From three to five credits of supporting electives may be required.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

EDUCATION

- Ed. 502 Secondary School Curriculum 2 s. c.
A survey of current practices and trends in reorganizing and reorienting the secondary school curriculum, with emphasis on the various integrating techniques. Particular attention will be given to the critical analysis and evaluation of the experimental results of such practices. Specific application will be made to each of the major subject matter areas.
- Ed. 506 The Junior High School 2 s. c.
The development, function, and philosophy of the early years of secondary school. A study of the curriculum, teaching assignments, characteristics of pupils, and special problems of the junior high school.
- Ed. 508 The Core Curriculum 2 s. c.
The theory and philosophy underlying the core curriculum. A study of specific school core programs in secondary schools will be studied and evaluated.
- Ed. 510 Seminar in Educational Foundations 2 s. c.
The history of education; factual history integrated with educational philosophy and thought; the evolution of present day educational theories and issues from early times.
This is a required course for all curricula.
- Ed. 511 Unit Teaching in the Elementary School 2 s. h.
An introduction to the unit method of teaching and the integrated curriculum, with special emphasis on social studies, science, and health. Intended for those whose undergraduate work was not in elementary education; open to others by permission of the instructor. Prerequisites: Child Development and Educational Psychology, or their equivalents.
- Ed. 513 Teaching the Communication Skills 2 s. h.
An introduction to the teaching of language (oral and written) and arithmetic — content, methods, materials, and organization. Intended for those whose undergraduate work was not in elementary education; open to others by permission of the instructor. Prerequisites: Child Development and Educational Psychology, or their equivalents.
- Ed. 515 Meeting Individual Needs of Elementary School Children 2 s. h.
An advanced course concerned with methods and materials for individualizing instruction in the subject and skill areas, and with meeting individual needs in personal adjustment. Prerequisite: undergraduate degree in elementary education, or all required courses in Group 2 under A, Area of Specialization.
- Ed. 520 Comparative Education 2 s. c.
Major problems of education in a number of foreign countries in relation to similar problems in the United States. Attention is given to the reasons for the various patterns of education in terms of purposes and philosophies as they pertain to differences in organization and administration.
- Ed. 525 The Teacher and Administrative Leadership 2 s. c.
A study of processes and methods of local leadership and participation by the classroom teacher, including an understanding of human relations. The relationship between the classroom teacher and other school personnel.
- Ed. 530 Selection and Effective Utilization of Audio-Visual Materials 2 s. c.
Concerns the approved methods of selecting audio-visual materials for maximum value to the curriculum as well as principles applied to efficient use of each of the major types of materials.
- Ed. 535 Organization and Administration of the Audio-Visual Program 2 s. c.
Includes a study and analysis of the function of the school's audio-visual education program. The selection and evaluation of materials and equipment, unit costs, problems of developing and maintaining an efficient operation.

- Ed. 540 In-Service Education Seminar 2 s. c.
For teachers and supervisors who are interested in the many techniques, media and resources which can be utilized for in-service education programs. Study concerns the staff working together; preparation of curriculum materials; use of consultants; and community resources for organizing a school improvement program.
- Ed. 550 Advanced Educational Psychology 2 s. c.
Intensive study of the processes by which skills, understandings, concepts and ideals are acquired; examination of teaching practices in relation to basic research on learning. A study of similarities and differences in learning theories. (Pre. — Educ. Psych.)
- Ed. 551, 553 Seminar in Child Development and Behavior 2 or 4 s. h.
An intensive study of elementary school children — their development, needs and behavior. Course content and organization will depend on the interests and needs of class members; readings, assignments, and projects will be individualized. Open to all students. (Students with no undergraduate course in Child Development may be required to take both semesters of this course.)
- Ed. 552 Personality and Mental Hygiene 2 s. c.
This course emphasizes mental hygiene in teaching and the prevention and treatment of learning difficulties as they affect personality patterns.
- Ed. 555 Educational Statistics 2 s. c.
A course dealing with sampling and reliability measures including methods of correlation. Applications stressed in design, execution and interpretation of the experimental studies in education. Orientation to statistical procedures in practical solution of educational problems. (Prerequisite: Tests and Measurements in Guidance or its equivalent).
- Ed. 556 Occupational, Educational and Social Information in Guidance 2 s. c.
A course concerned with the numerous factors involved in occupational, educational, and social adjustments and how to secure, classify, analyze, interpret, evaluate these factors for intelligent use by teachers and guidance workers. Prerequisite: one course in psychology or guidance.
- Ed. 560 Techniques in Guidance and Counseling 2 s. c.
Tools and techniques commonly used in diagnosis of data secured through observation, personal documents, rating devices and testing will be studied. The interview and theories of counseling, and applications of techniques to solution of pupil's problems. The importance of case studies will be stressed.
- Ed. 562 Organization and Administration of the Secondary School Guidance Program 2 s. c.
A survey of the current literature in counseling and guidance. Problems involved in initiating, organization and developing guidance services. Types of organizations, staff, physical facilities, and administrative and faculty relationships will be considered.
- Ed. 564 Homeroom Guidance in the Junior High School 2 s. c.
A course which assists the teacher in developing a guidance program related to homeroom grouping. Stresses social, educational and vocational guidance principles and practices.
- Ed. 565 Supervising the Guidance Program 2 s. c.
The function of the individual charged with the responsibility of supervising the guidance program in a particular school system. A survey of the modern practices and principles for coordinating the guidance and counseling duties assigned to teachers. Individual and committee responsibilities in collecting and disseminating information.
- Ed. 566 The Activity Program in the Secondary School 2 s. c.
A course dealing with the organization and development of an educationally sound activity program. A survey of the various types of activities and their function in the over-all school program. Emphasis is upon character building and leadership opportunities for students as well as the role the teacher plays in such a program.

- Ed. 580 History and Philosophy of Education 2 s. c.
A study of the historic background and development of education and influences which important philosophies have had on educational problems in a democratic social order.
- Ed. 590 School Law 2 s. c.
A course dealing with the legal background of educational organization in various states as it pertains to the role of the state itself, the intermediate and the local units. Particular attention will be paid to the legal status of the school board, the rights and privileges of the teacher, the board and the child. Much will be made of the case study technique.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

- Ed. 500 Methods and Materials of Research 2 s. c.
An introduction to the basic principles of research in education with attention to types of research, techniques of gathering data, and the application of methods to specific types of research problems. The student will be introduced to research literature and typical research reports.
- Art 500 Art Activities in the Elementary School 2 s. c.
Formulating the art curriculum in the elementary school; organizing materials and procedures in keeping with contemporary trends in educational philosophy.
- Ed. 501 Foundation of Reading Instruction 2 s. c.
An analysis of the modern methods of teaching children to read. Recent psychological findings in reading readiness, eye movement, word perception phonics will be studied.
- Ed. 505 Curriculum and Research in Language Arts 2 s. c.
Curriculum planning; modern teaching methods; instructional materials; recent research and its application in the classroom; English, written and oral; spelling and handwriting.
- Ed. 509 Social Studies Curriculum and Instruction 2 s. c.
Curriculum planning; modern teaching methods; instructional materials; recent research and its application in the classroom; use of maps and globes.
- Ed. 517 Curriculum Problems in Elementary Education 2 s. c.
Examination of basic problems and current trends in elementary education; practical, creative projects and investigations dealing with actual teaching situations.
- Ed. 519 The Kindergarten-Primary School Program 2 s. c.
A survey of kindergarten-primary principles, procedures, and materials appropriate to the school level indicated.
- Ed. 521 Analysis, Diagnosis, Correction of Reading Difficulties 2 s. c.
Treating remediate reading cases; individual and small group instruction; classification of types of problems; corrective and remedial procedures. (Prerequisite: Foundations of Reading.)
- Ed. 523 Elementary School Organization and Supervision 2 s. c.
A study of major over-all organization and supervisory programs in the modern elementary school. Professional relationships, community needs, and articulation of the entire educational program as they apply to the teacher in the school. (Open only to those with teaching experience.)
- Ed. 527 Audio-Visual Materials in the Elementary School Curriculum 2 s. c.
Practice in techniques of using and evaluating the modern communications media in the classroom; correlation of audio-visual materials and techniques with the modern elementary school program.
- Ed. 533 Supervision in the Improvement of Instruction 2 s. c.
A study of the best practices used in elementary school teaching. Emphasis is given to developing meaningful assignments, daily lessons, activities, pupil participation, and group and individual projects. The teacher's role in supervision of learning experiences.

- Ed. 537 Creative Expression in the Elementary Curriculum 2 s. c.
A laboratory course designed to help teachers work with children in the creative arts. Emphasis is placed upon the child's needs to discover creative interests and upon the development of skills and refinements of taste needed for rich experience in art, music, and literature.
- Eng. 544 Principle and Practice in Speech Improvement 2 s. c.
A course designed to acquaint teachers with the speech problems common to children in the elementary school. Emphasis is placed upon speech rehabilitation; methods of examination, diagnosis and treatment; therapy practice in clinic under supervision.
- Ed. 550 Advanced Educational Psychology 2 s. c.
Intensive study of the processes by which skills, understandings, concepts and ideals are acquired; examination of teaching practices in relation to basic research on learning. A study of similarities and differences in learning theories. (Prerequisite: Educ. Psychology.)
- Math 551 Curriculum and Research in Arithmetic 2 s. c.
Recent developments in the teaching of arithmetic constitute the content of this course. Curriculum planning, materials, research and its application in the classroom will receive emphasis.
- Ed. 561 Guidance in the Elementary School 2 s. c.
The function of guidance in relation to children's needs; emphasizes principles and techniques which are most applicable in the elementary school guidance program. The teacher's responsibility as a counselor to young children.
- Ed. 563 Measurement and Evaluation in the Elementary School 2 s. c.
This course is concerned with the various techniques that may be used to measure and evaluate pupil progress in the elementary grades. Sociometric techniques, anecdotal records, techniques of observations, open question procedures are a few methods considered. (Prerequisite: Child Development or its equivalent.)
- Sci. 595 Elementary Science Curriculum and Instruction 2 s. c.
Methods and materials used in teaching science in elementary grades; demonstration experiments adapted to elementary classroom work; curriculum planning; recent research and its application; field trips.

ENGLISH

- Eng. 511 English Literary Criticism (1800-1920) — A study of the critical dicta which influenced the course of English literature between 1800 and 1920. Special considerations will be given to such major figures as Coleridge, Hazlitt, Ruskin, and Arnold. Prerequisite: At least one undergraduate course in English literature.
- Eng. 512 American Literary Criticism (1800-1920) — A study of the critical dicta which influenced the course of American literature between 1800 and 1920. Special consideration will be given to Poe, Whitman, Howells, and the New England writers. Prerequisite: At least one undergraduate course in American literature.
- Eng. 513 English Literary Movements — A detailed analysis of the development of English literature through a study of the major movements. Special emphasis will be placed on the influence of major writers on literary concepts, trends, and critical dicta. Prerequisite: At least one undergraduate course in English literature.
- Eng. 514 American Literary Movements — A detailed analysis of the development of American literature through a study of the major movements. Special emphasis will be placed on the influence of major writers on literary concepts, trends, and critical dicta. Prerequisite: At least one undergraduate course in American literature.
- Eng. 521 English Literature to Chaucer — A study of certain significant figures in English literature beginning with the Old English Period and closing with the Pearl Poet. Emphasis upon origins, trends, and influences. Reading, reports, research.

- Eng. 522 Chaucer — A study of the life and works of Chaucer; readings, reports, and class discussions of major and minor works and theories of origin and influence.
- Eng. 523 Eighteenth Century Novel — The significant master works of prose fiction in England from Defoe to the end of the century; development of types of the novel; the theories of structure, techniques of characterization, and the philosophies of the major authors.
- Eng. 524 British and Continental Short Story — A consideration of the short-story form especially as concerned with its origin, development, and current trends. Emphasis upon the influences of German, French, and Russian writers upon the British form.
- Eng. 531 Shakespeare's Predecessors in Drama — A course designed to trace the development of the drama from classical antiquity to the time of Shakespeare. The purpose is to consider the nature, structure, and other major aspects of the principle types of drama.
- Eng. 532 Advanced Shakespeare — Discussion with readings, reports, and original research on selected plays; study of origins, development, and influence.
- Eng. 533 Nineteenth Century Drama — A study of the development of drama as an institution in the Nineteenth Century. Although the primary emphasis will be upon English and American drama, continental influences will also be treated. Prerequisite: At least one undergraduate course in drama.
- Eng. 541 Greek and Roman Literature in Translation — A study of the major dramatic, epic, and lyric works from the classical period with their influences upon Anglo-American literature from the sixteenth to twentieth centuries.
- Eng. 542 French Literature in Translation — A study of French literature from Rabelais to Andre Gide. Emphasis upon the development of modern French literature and its influence upon Anglo-American literary forms and trends.
- Eng. 543 Advanced Problems in Public Speaking — Intensive study of parliamentary procedures for both large and small groups with special emphasis on the problems of the chairman, committee members, conventions, etc.; leadership and participation in group discussion on current public questions; speech making. Special research project is required.
- Eng. 544 Problems of Speech Correction — Discussion, lectures, and demonstrations on the rehabilitation of stammerers, of persons with cerebral palsy, cleft palate, hearing loss, and aphasia. Special emphasis on diagnosis, problems, integration with medical and training centers, treatment, and adjustment with society.
- Eng. 550 Literature for the Elementary School — A course designed to acquaint the student with the content and approach of the literature program in the elementary school. Although this course is designed primarily for elementary school teachers, it can also be pursued profitably by administrators, curriculum specialists, and others interested in the elementary school level.

GEOGRAPHY

- Geog. 500 Biogeography — A study of the causes and effects of major floral and faunal distributions over the earth. The course will stress the natural original distribution of plants and animals that are of major economic importance to man, and how man has changed these original patterns. The study of new and potential uses by man of the plant and animal world will be included, with particular attention given to the attempt by man to enlarge the distribution area of the plants and animals he finds economically useful. Prerequisite: World Geography.
- Geog. 502 Regional Climatology of the Continents — A descriptive and explanatory analysis of the characteristics of the climates of each continent. Emphasis is on deviations from the normal world pattern as they are developed through climatic controls associated with the various continents.

- Geog. 504 Regional Physiography of North America — A regional analysis of the surface configuration of the North American continent. Emphasis will be placed on the geographical interpretation of those aspects of the terrain especially significant in affecting utility of the land. Prerequisite: Physiography, Geology or Geomorphology.
- Geog. 520 Problems of Economic Geography — A study of economic situations in our country and the world with emphasis on the major problems of production, surplus, marketing, conflicting national policies and special problem areas. Also the problems in gathering, presenting and comparing economic data will be analyzed.
- Geog. 522 Ethnic and Demographic Problems of Geography — A study of the characteristics and distribution of ethnic groups, and the geographic problems that arise from densities of population involving ethnic groups. The course will include present and future distribution and resettlement problems, with geographic factors used as a basis for interpretation.
- Geog. 523 Political Geography — A study of the development and trends of the present world political pattern. The course involves spatial factors affecting the organization of the various political units of the world. Patterns of geopolitical development will be considered and analyzed.
- Geog. 526 Advanced Conservation of Natural Resources — An economic and geographic appraisal of resource conservation in the United States, including factors of regional and national planning for resource utilization. The summer offering of this course may be organized as an advanced conservation workshop.
- Geog. 540 Geography of the United States and its World Relations — An analysis of the interdependence of our country in the world of nations. Changing patterns within the United States will be analyzed in relation to economic strategic and political developments in other parts of the world. Prerequisite: World Geography.
- Geog. 541 Geography of Canada — A study in the physical and cultural regionalism of Canada. The course will survey the natural resources and patterns of human occupancy including agriculture, industry and transportation.
- Geog. 543 Geography of South America — A regional geography of South America including an analysis of the physical base, settlement, agriculture, mining and manufacturing. Emphasis will be placed on inter-American relations of these countries.
- Geog. 544 Geography of Europe (Excluding the U.S.S.R.) — An advanced study of the geographic factors in the economic, social and political progress of the European nations. Emphasis will be put on current major problems of the continent in light of their geographic background. Consideration will be given to some geopolitical problems.
- Geog. 546 Geography of Asia (Excluding the U.S.S.R.) — An over-all survey of Asia including a study of physical and geographic regions, with concentrations on the monsoon realm, the Far East, and Southwest Asia. The resources and major activities of the people in regions of densest population and greatest economic and strategic importance will be stressed.
- Geog. 547 Geography of the Soviet Union — The course includes both European and Asiatic U.S.S.R. and the satellite nations. The elements of the geographic environment and the major regional divisions will be studied in relation to the resource base and the economic and political aims of the country. Emphasis will be placed on the positive and negative geographic factors in relation to the strength and weakness of the U.S.S.R. as a major world power.
- Geog. 581 Graduate Seminar in Modern Philosophy of Geography — A review of modern geographic thought with emphasis on the contributions of American geographers. Points of view on environmentalism, regionalism, and other doctrines that find expression in Geographic literature will be examined.
- Geog. 582 Methods and Materials in Geographic Research — The course will survey the various sources of geographic information and the methods of handling such materials for compiling into reports and geographic writing. Bibliographic aids and archival sources of geographical material will be used in preparation of research reports.

MATHEMATICS

- Math 501 Fundamental Concepts of Mathematics — A course for the elementary teacher. It includes development of our number system, the base of a number system, and the role of the various types of numbers and operations in mathematics. The course stresses the meanings and understandings of the mathematics related to the elementary program.
- Math 502 A Survey of Modern Mathematics — A course to acquaint teachers with recent developments in mathematics. The topics included for study are selected from mathematical structure, properties of integers, sets, groups, logic, Boolean algebra and non-Euclidean geometry.
- Math 503 History of Mathematics — A course tracing the development of mathematics from the prehistoric to the present. This course involves a study of various areas in mathematics as well as the men responsible for the development.
- Math 511 Higher Algebra — A course in linear algebra. It includes matrices, determinants, their theory and application to systems of equations.
- Math 512 Theory of Numbers — A survey of the elementary arithmetic of the integers. The course includes properties of numbers, prime numbers, factorization, congruences and diophantine equations.
- Math 513 Foundations of Algebra — A course in modern algebra. It treats abstract algebraic structures such as integral domains, groups, rings and fields from an axiomatic point of view.
- Math 521 Educational Statistics — A course in statistics for the teachers. The course includes measures of central tendency, deviation, correlation and tests of significance of results.
- Math 522 Advanced Educational Statistics — A continuation of Math 521. It includes applications of various distributions, analysis of variance and covariance and multivariate analysis.
- Math 523 Introduction to Mathematical Probability — A course involving the mathematical treatment of random phenomena. Included for study are elementary concepts of probability, conditional probability, compound events, expectation and random variable.
- Math 524 Mathematical Statistics — A course emphasizing the mathematical aspects of statistics. It includes correlation, sampling, tests of significance, analysis of variance and other topics.
- Math 531 Foundations of Geometry — A course emphasizing modern geometry. It includes a postulational treatment of Euclidean and various non-Euclidean geometries.
- Math 541 Advanced Calculus I — An introduction to mathematical analysis. The course includes limits, continuity and derivatives.
- Math 542 Advanced Calculus II — A continuation of Math 541. The emphasis of this course is on integrals.
- Math 543 Differential Equations — A course in the theory, solution, and application of ordinary differential equations. It includes differential equations of the first and second orders.
- Math 545 Introduction to the Theory of Functions of a Real Variable — A course in real analysis. Included for study are the real number system, sets, order, theory of limits, continuity, derivatives and integrals.
- Math 547 Introduction to the Theory of Functions of a Complex Variable — A course in complex analysis. Included for study are the complex number system, analytic functions, differentiation and integration, expansions and conformal mapping.
- Math 550 Methods and Materials of Research in Mathematics Education — A course involving a study of the techniques of research in mathematics education. Included are an analysis of the various types of research, selection of a problem, selection of appropriate procedures and the formulation of a plan of investigation and report.

- Math 551 Arithmetic: Methods, Curriculum and Research — A course in recent developments in the teaching of arithmetic. The course stresses meaning and understanding in arithmetic by analyzing the social and mathematical phases of numbers. Content of the arithmetic curriculum as well as recent research are also considered.
- Math 552 Seminar in Mathematics Education — A critical re-examination of secondary school mathematics from a professional point of view. The course stresses methods of teaching as well as actual subject matter. Modern trends in secondary school curricula are also considered.

SCIENCE

- Sci. 500 *Philosophy of Science*2 semester hours
Ethical and social implications of modern science and technical skills. The course will deal of necessity with scientific methods of inquiry, choice of experimental techniques, and logical interpretation of results.
Prerequisites: Completion of a major field in one or more of the sciences.
- Sci. 501 *Historical Geology*2 semester hours
The history of plant life and animal life on our planet, as shown in the record of the rock formations. Field trips to visit museums as well as laboratory experiences in the study of living forms and fossils will aid graduate students in the comprehension of the great literature of paleontology.
Prerequisite: Completion of a field in biological science or general science.
- Sci. 511 *Systematic Botany*2 semester hours
Scientific methods applied to the classification of leafy and flowering plants. Observation of living specimens in the field, woods and gardens will be supplemented by lectures and herbarium work. Various systems of historical importance will be reviewed. The modern approach to experimental taxonomy will be emphasized.
Prerequisite: General college botany or basic biology and field botany.
- Sci. 512 *Plant Growth*2 semester hours
A comprehensive review of various theories of growth and consideration of the evidence. A study of apical meristems, secondary growth, and development of reproductive parts is projected against a background of plant physiology. Experiments with plant materials will involve use of phytohormones and various synthetic substances known to affect growth of vascular plants.
Prerequisite: Two semesters of general college botany and a course in plant physiology or permission of the professor in charge.
- Sci. 521 *Mineralogy for the Science Teacher*2 semester hours
Properties and occurrence of the common and industrially important minerals and their identification in the laboratory. Strategic and critical minerals and the relationship between mineral resources, national development and security will be studied.
Prerequisite: Two semesters of inorganic chemistry.
- Sci. 523 *Resource Material in Elementary Science*2 semester hours
A course designed to acquaint the elementary school teacher with the resource material in his community and elsewhere that is essential to the curriculum of the modern elementary school. Although this course is designed primarily for elementary school teachers, it should prove profitable to administrators also.
- Sci. 524 *Experimental Biology*2 semester hours
Techniques in demonstrating body functions and animal behavior. Humanely conducted operations will utilize several types of invertebrates as well as fish, frogs and rodents. These are designed to demonstrate reflexes, tropistic responses, enzymatic digestion, peristaltic movements, circulation of the blood, metabolism, normal and anomalous growth.
Prerequisite: Completion of a major field in biological science.

- Sci. 531 Acoustics for the Science Teacher2 semester hours
Sounds and their sources, wave structure, transmission of sounds, and the organs of hearing. Basic principles will be applied to musical instruments recording and reproduction of music and speech. Some aspects of architectural acoustics will be considered.
Prerequisite: Two semesters of college physics.
- Sci. 532 Space Science2 semester hours
A review of the physical characteristics of space beyond the troposphere. Results of modern research in space exploration, techniques of radio astronomy, and problems of interplanetary travel will be considered. Collateral reading and special term reports will be assigned.
Prerequisite: Two semesters of general college physics.
- Sci. 533 Physics Demonstrations2 semester hours
Development of laboratory skills and techniques necessary for effective organization and presentation of teacher demonstrations. Students will be expected to develop special devices and to test them in teaching situations.
Prerequisite: Completion of a field in physics or physical science.
- Sci. 541 Economic Entomology2 semester hours
Beneficial and deleterious influences exerted by insects upon man's welfare; their identification, distribution, life histories and control. Special attention will be devoted to insects attacking crop plants, stored products, and livestock. Further study will be devoted to pollinating insects as well as the predaceous and parasitic forms utilized in biological control of organisms.
Prerequisites: Completion of a field in biological science including general Entomology or invertebrate zoology and college botany courses.
- Sci. 542 Animal Ecology2 semester hours
Interrelationships of organisms and the environment, including physical and biological factors. Topics for discussion and investigation will include animal distribution, procuring food, escape from enemies, surviving climatic extremes, reproductions and community organizations. Field trips to study a variety of terrestrial and freshwater habitats will be required.
Prerequisites: Two semesters of college zoology or general biology.
- Sci. 543 Freshwater Biology2 semester hours
Habitats, morphology and taxonomy of our local freshwater plants and animals. Work in the course will include classroom lectures and dissection, field trips and a minor problem. Each student must present at a seminar meeting a complete report of some individual research project.
Prerequisites: College zoology, college botany, and at least one field course in biology.
- Sci. 544 Vertebrate Dissection2 semester hours
Practical methods of examining bodies of vertebrate animals to observe differences in the structure of organs and organ systems. Functions of each will be discussed. An effective lecture-demonstration at a final seminar is a required outcome.
Prerequisites: College zoology and vertebrate anatomy.
- Sci. 545 Developmental Anatomy2 semester hours
A review of the anatomy of the human reproductive systems and the fundamentals of human development. Students make a survey of current literature dealing with the origin of sperms and ova and the sexual cycles. The establishment of several functional systems of the human body is studied, with constant reference to those in chicks and monkeys. A term paper is required which shall be presented to the class group.
Prerequisite: Anatomy, physiology and embryology courses.
- Sci. 561 Human Heredity2 semester hours
The in-born qualities of human beings and their genetic basis. This subject deals with both physical and mental aspects — normal and sub-normal, including such topics as linkage, crossing-over, mutations, nature of the genes, multiple alleles, multiple genes, incomplete dominance, lethal genes, relationship to heredity and environment, and effects of radio-active substances.

Prerequisites: A course in general genetics or two semesters of a biological science.

- Sci. 562 Physical Anthropology2 semester hours
A study of mankind, dealing with physical differences among various cultural groups. Variations in stature, skin color, blood groups, and other so-called racial differences will be studied in the light of evolution and modern science of genetics. The purpose of this course is to disclose such differences and to account for them, using scientific literature and methods. Prerequisites: completion of a field in biological science or health and physical education.
- Sci. 571 Bacteriology2 semester hours
Diagnostic procedures and minor problems in microbiology, immunology and immunochemistry. The fields of medical mycology, virology and use of antibiotics will be examined. Prerequisites: Completion of a field in science and two semesters of chemistry.
- Sci. 572 General Cytology2 semester hours
Techniques of preparing cells and tissues for microscopic examination. The physical properties, chemical structure and metabolism of cells will be studied, using both plant and animal tissues. Prerequisites: Completion of a field in biological science.
- Sci. 573 Principles of Pathology2 semester hours
Nature of disease in plants and animals. The causative factors and development of important disease are studied. Modern control measures are discussed. Problems of pathogenic and non-pathogenic associations as well as fundamentals of immunology will be included. Prerequisites: Completion of a field in biological science including general botany, general zoology, two semesters of college chemistry and at least one course in anatomy.
- Sci. 590 History of the Physical Sciences2 semester hours
The development of the physical sciences from Aristotelian concepts to those established by modern scientific methods. Emphasis will be placed on the role of discoveries in the physical sciences in the economic and political growth of all great nations. Prerequisites: Two semesters of inorganic chemistry and two semesters of college physics.
- Sci. 591 History of the Biological Sciences2 semester hours
Great discoveries in the field of biology and related literature from that of Theophrastus to the present should be evaluated. Emphasis will be placed on the philosophical implications of these discoveries and the economic changes which have resulted from the major discoveries. Prerequisites: College zoology, college botany and a field of at least 24 semester hours in undergraduate preparation.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Semester Credits

- I. Area of General Education 6
- A. Required 4
- Ed. 510 Seminar in Educational Foundations 2 s. c.
The history of education; factual history integrated with educational philosophy and thought; the evolution of present day educational theories and issues from early times.
- Hu. 500 Seminar in the Humanities 2 s. c.
This is a composite course composed of three major fields of subject matter: (1) art and architecture, (2) music, (3) literature.
- B. Elective 2
(To be chosen under advisement of the Department)

II. Area of Specialization	24
A. Required and Electives	18

Group A

- History 510 Early American History 2 s. c.
 A study of the period of colonial development; the era of revolutionary conflict; the experiment in confederation; the constitutional foundation of the republic; and the early years of evolving democracy. Special emphasis is placed on the political, social, economic, and cultural patterns of young America.
- History 511 Growth of the American Nation 2 s. c.
 An intensive study of the growth of the nation and the problems involved therein: nationalism, sectionalism, and democracy; commerce, industry, and the tariff; the rise of the new West; the issues of slavery, Civil War, and reconstruction; the development of big business and labor; and the resurgence of imperialism.
- History 512 The United States as a World Power 2 s. c.
 A study of America's development as a world power. It deals with the impact of industrialization upon society, politics, and economics; the problems of the war and post-war periods; and the work of our nation toward world unity. Emphasis is placed on the immediate background of current affairs.
- History 513 American Constitutional History 2 s. c.
 A study of the origin and development of the American constitution from its English background to the present time. Emphasis is on the progressive adaptation of the law to a changing social and economic order. Such conflicts as nationalism versus state rights, and vested rights versus police power are investigated.
- History 514 Seminar in Recent American Diplomatic History 2 s. c.
 A study of American foreign policy in Europe, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East from 1939 to the present; in each area of study there is presented the objectives sought by the United States and the political, military, economic, and social policies it pursued in an attempt to achieve these objectives. Special detail is given to two fundamental issues on which free-world survival depends — the nature of our military strategy and the future of underdeveloped countries.

Group B

- History 520 Early European History 2 s. c.
 A study of the latter Medieval Ages with emphasis on commercial expansion and secularism; the Renaissance with emphasis on the rise of individualism, absolutism, and the beginning of European expansion; and the Reformation with emphasis on dynastic absolutism, nationalism, and capitalism.
- History 521 18th and 19th Century Europe 2 s. c.
 A study of dynastic rivalries of the 17th and 18th centuries; of the commercial colonial rivalries of the European powers of the 18th century; the growth of the revolutionary spirit; and the problems of 19th century Europe.
- History 522 Twentieth Century Europe 2 s. c.
 A study of twentieth century Europe with emphasis on the causes of World War I; the problems of Europe between World War I and World War II; the causes of World War II; and the problems of contemporary Europe.
- History 523 Contemporary World Affairs 2 s. c.
 An analysis of the causes of the cold war between the U.S.S.R. and the United States and the Western Democracies; contemporary efforts to realize peaceful coexistence of the democracies with the Communist dictatorships; and the impact of the nationalist movements of the peoples of Asia and Africa on contemporary world politics.

- History 524 Cultures of the Non-Western World 2 s. c.
A study of the political, economic, institutional, and cultural growth of Africa, India, Southeast Asia, and the Far East. Emphasis is placed on the comparisons and contrasts between these regions and the rest of the world. Special attention is given to recent interpretations of the many new aspects of Asian and African culture.

Group C

- History 502 Methods and Materials for Teaching Social Studies 2 s. c.
The course is designed to acquaint teachers with current practices and procedures in the Social Studies field with emphasis upon organization and planning; the use of classroom, library, and curriculum materials; testing, measurement, and evaluation; and bibliographical sources for both teachers and students.
- Political Science 531 Modern Political Thought 2 s. c.
Critical analysis of enduring political problems, primarily in the writings of European theorists from Machiavellie to the present; an analysis of the basic concepts of political science; and theories concerning the proper role of the State in society.
- Political Science 532 Seminar in International Relations 2 s. c.
A study of the factors which motivate the actions of nations on the contemporary international scene; with special emphasis on the machinery which members of the nation-state system have evolved for giving effect to their various policies. The methods of diplomacy, international law, and international organization are stressed.
- Economics 531 Comparative Economic Systems 2 s. c.
A study of major forms of economic organizations with particular emphasis on those existing today. The course is presented so as to contrast the structure of capitalism, socialism, communism and fascism.
- Economics 532 History of Economic Thought 2 s. c.
The historical evolution of the major economic doctrines; mercantilists and cameralists; physiocrats; Adam Smith and the classical school; the historical school; the Austrian school; Alfred Marshall and the neo-classicists.
- Sociology 531 Social Pathology 2 s. c.
A study of cultural patterns defined by society as undesirable. Analysis of the role of social science principles relating to the functioning of the family, education, and the state in modern society. Pathological patterns in the economic, educational, and political life resulting in social disorganization.
- Sociology 532 Historical Sociology 2 s. c.
A study of the history of social thought from early primitive beginnings to recent contemporary times. It makes use of social thought in Europe and America. Emphasis is given to a survey of the work and personalities of outstanding American sociologists projected on the background of social theory and research.

B. Research and Supporting Electives 6

- Sec. 500 Methods and Materials of Research 2 s. c.
A course designed to acquaint the student with the basic techniques and procedures in research. This course treats the major types of research and the methods for locating, evaluating, and interpreting evidence. It also includes the actual preparation of a research paper. This course is given by curriculum (elementary, secondary, music, health and physical education) in order to meet the needs of the specific fields.
- H. 610 Thesis 2-3 s. c.
Each graduate student must present a thesis developed under the guidance of a member of the Social Studies Department. The student must show a marked attainment in some field of his major subject and he should demonstrate that he has acquired the methods and techniques of scholarly investigation.

Supporting elective

2 s. c.

The graduate student must take course work in fields of study necessary to augment his background for work on his thesis. If the thesis is in the realm of colonial history, for example, his supporting elective must be in Early American History. The elective might be in another department, but only if the thesis subject warrants this. A thesis in colonial literature, for example, would be supported by a course in American Literature.

MUSIC

A. REQUIRED COURSES

Section I.

a. Required Course

Mus. 510 Current Trends in Music Education 2 s. c.

Current principles and philosophy in music education in relation to modern educational philosophy and curriculum practices. Prerequisite: Elementary and Secondary Music Methods.

b. Required Elective Course (select one) 2 s. c.

Mus. 511 Administration of Public School Music 2 s. c.

A consideration of administrative problems, curricular content, scheduling, in service training of teachers, and supervisory planning will be included. Participants may bring in problems which have been encountered in the supervision and administration of public school music. Prerequisite: Teaching experience.

Mus. 512 Music Education in the Secondary School 2 s. c.

This course deals with the general music class in the Secondary School with special emphasis on the problems in the Junior High School. Prerequisite: Secondary Music Methods and Teaching experience.

Mus. 513 Music Education in the Elementary School 2 s. c.

This course is planned for the music educator with emphasis upon problems, procedures, and materials and their practical application in the Elementary class room. Prerequisite: Elementary Music Methods and Teaching Experience.

Mus. 514 Pedagogy of Music Theory 2 s. c.

A study of the techniques and materials for use in teaching the various skills included in courses in music theory. Special emphasis will be placed on theoretical instruction in the public schools. A comparison of procedures in present day use and an introduction to the work of outstanding theorists will be included.

Mus. 515 Marching Band Techniques and Materials 2 s. c.

A detailed study of the Marching Band including organization, music, materials, care of instruments and uniforms, marching essentials, and contemporary techniques.

Mus. 516 Piano Pedagogy 2 s. c.

A consideration of principles and procedures of piano teaching at all levels. Sound practice procedures, as well as the essentials of technique, style, and musicianship will be demonstrated through performance. Opportunity to teach and prepare criticisms will be provided. Prerequisite: Teaching experience or evidence of sufficient pianistic background to profit from the course.

Mus. 517 String Pedagogy 2 s. c.

The principles and techniques of teaching applied music. A concentrated study of the presentation of techniques from early through advanced grades, with an analytical examination of carefully chosen and recommended material for teachers. Prerequisite: Performing experience on string instruments.

Mus. 518 Vocal Pedagogy 2 s. c.

A practical approach to the principles and techniques of teaching voice at all levels is presented. Stress is laid upon materials and procedures concerned with improving the tone quality of the individual and/or the group. Prerequisite: Teaching experience or evidence of sufficient vocal background to profit from the course.

- Mus. 519 Music Appreciation in the General Music Program 2 s. c.
A comprehensive study of the many different approaches to the development of musical understandings which stimulate a sincere appreciation of music. Particular emphasis is placed upon materials and their reflection in pupils' appreciative responses.

Section II. Applied Music — require (a, b, or c) 4 s. c.

a. Keyboard

- Mus. 541-551 Advanced Piano or Advanced Organ 1 or 2 s. c.
Continued study in all phases of piano or organ performance through the literature from Bach to the contemporary period; opportunity for recital performance will be provided. Prerequisite: 4 credits in piano or organ, with performing experience.

- Mus. 546-549 Piano Ensemble and Master Class 1 s. c.
Emphasis will be placed on the study and performance of accompaniment material, chamber music, and original works and arrangements for four-hands and two-piano combination. Both classical and contemporary literature will be considered. Rehearsal techniques in ensemble playing will receive stress. Prerequisite: Pianistic ability at a level to function effectively in the class.

b. Vocal

- Mus. 503 Advanced Choral Conducting 2 s. c.
Discussion, study, and practical application of choral conducting techniques involved in the performance of the music of the various schools of choral writing, sacred and secular. Prerequisite: Choral conducting.

- Mus. 531-535 Advanced Voice 1 or 2 s. c.
Continued study in all phases of vocal techniques. Development of repertoire from as many schools as possible including widely contrasting styles for use in church and recital. A voice major should give a recital of three or four groups of songs. Prerequisite: 4 credits in voice and performing experience.

- Mus. 536-537 Vocal Ensemble and/or Chorus 1 s. c.
Participation in the preparation of choral and/or ensemble programs for concert performance. Prerequisite: Chorus experience equivalent to the undergraduate requirement for chorus; sufficient voice and reading ability to profit by extensive work in this area of participation.

- Mus. 538-539 Opera Workshop 2 s. c.
A practical study of the technique of producing musical stage plays. Covers study of music and action only. Includes preparation of roles, coaching, conducting rehearsals, and possible public performance. Participants engage in singing, accompanying, directing, etc., as needed to supply the experience.

c. Instrumental

- Mus. 501-502 Advanced Class Instruction in Instruments 1 s. c.
This class is offered to students who wish to become familiar with the playing and teaching techniques of the orchestra and band instruments. Prerequisite: Violin, Clarinet, Trumpet.

- Mus. 504 Advanced Instrumental Conducting 2 s. c.
Study and practice of the problems involved in conducting more advanced music literature. Developing the ability to read and conduct full scores of works involving larger orchestra than used in undergraduate work. Prerequisite: Instrumental Conducting.

- Mus. 561-565 Advanced Instruments 1 or 2 s. c.
Continued study in all phases of technique in relation to the performance of the instrument's repertoire; opportunity for recital performance will be provided. Prerequisite: 4 credits in instruments and performing experience.

- Mus. 566-569 Ensemble and/or Orchestra or Band 1 s. c.
Participation in preparation of programs for concert performance. Prerequisite: Experience equivalent to the undergraduate requirement.

Section III. — Structure and Organization of Music	}	Require 4 s. c. and/or
Section IV. — Literature and History of Music

III — Courses:

- Mus. 521 *Advanced Counterpoint 2 s. c.
A course devoted to more advanced study of the polyphonic forms including extensive analysis of instrumental and vocal fugues, and creative writing in the more complex forms. Prerequisite: The equivalent of Counterpoint description in the undergraduate catalog.
- Mus. 522 *Advanced Composition and/or Orchestration 2 s. c.
Creative work in various forms. Prerequisite: A knowledge of the instruments of the orchestra and experience in their use in original composition.
- Mus. 523 *Advanced Band Arranging 2 s. c.
Emphasis is placed on arranging for the high school band. Consideration is given to Bands with inexperienced players and limited instrumentation. Students will have the opportunity to hear their arrangements performed. Prerequisite: Orchestration or Teaching experience.

IV — Courses:

- Mus. 505 *Contemporary Music 2 s. c.
A study of the techniques and artistic movements of the 19th century necessary for the understanding of contemporary music. Musical styles and techniques of the 20th century will be studied utilizing recordings, performances, scores, periodicals, etc. Individual composers will be discussed along with the analysis of selected works. The contribution of America to the contemporary musical scene will be emphasized.
- Mus. 506 *Instrumental Literature 2 s. c.
Instrumental materials for public school groups at all levels are discussed and evaluated. Program building and music for special programs are emphasized. Actual performance and recordings are used when possible. Prerequisite: Instrumental methods and performing experience.
- Mus. 507 *Vocal Literature 2 s. c.
A course designed to meet the needs of students, artists, and teachers giving them a performing and teaching command of representative song repertoire and program building. Material includes classic song literature, lieder, modern songs, and arias from standard operas and oratorios illustrated by performance of and by records, members of the class, and the instructor. Prerequisite: 4 credits in voice and performing ability.
- Mus. 508 *Choral Literature 2 s. c.
A study of the music used for purposes of choral ensemble through the course of the history of music as an art. Study by participation in actually singing of the material, and by research into some single phase elected by the student with the approval of the professor.
- Mus. 509 *Piano Literature 2 s. c.
A course designed to meet the needs of the performing students, teachers, through the medium of records, films, discussion and performance of great piano literature. Prerequisite: 4 credits in piano and performing experience.
- Mus. 524 *String Literature 2 s. c.
An intensive study through performance, analysis, and lecture of advanced string literature suitable for performance. The course will stress the problems of technique and the interpretive aspects of representative works of composers from the pre-Bach through contemporary periods. Prerequisite: Advanced playing ability required.
- Mus. 525 *Woodwind Literature 2 s. c.
A comprehensive evaluation of materials for solos and ensembles through actual performance and the use of recordings forms the basis for this course. Prerequisite: Performing experience.
- Mus. 526 *Brass Literature 2 s. c.
A comprehensive evaluation of materials for solos and ensembles through actual performance and the use of recordings forms the basis for this course. Prerequisite: Performing experience.
- Mus. 527 *History of the Opera 2 s. c.
Detailed study of the composers and their major contributions to the opera movement. Prerequisite: 6 credits of History of Music.

Section V. Required Electives Section II or III or IV

2 s. c.

B. ELECTIVES (offered as needed)

a. Music Education Students

Mus. 581 Accompanying 2 s. c.
Designed to consider the principles and problems of accompanying by various types of accompanying experiences in the vocal and instrumental literature. Students are given practical experience in studio accompanying at all levels of difficulty. Prerequisite: Sufficient pianistic background; 4 credits in piano.

Mus. 582 Form in Music 2 s. c.
A study of the internal and external aspects of form in music. The varied relationship of motivic elements will be discussed in the analysis of selected works representing the traditional homophonic and contrapuntal forms. Masterworks to be studied will be selected from various periods illustrating a wide variety of styles.

Mus. 583 Music in the Baroque Period 2 s. c.
A historical and appreciative study of music from 1600 to 1750, with special attention to stylistic and formal developments; significant trends and their relationship to general history and subsequent evolution of the art; some biographical study including Bach and Handel. Outside reading, research papers and classroom discussion required.

Mus. 584 Seminar in Piano Teaching and Teaching Materials 2 s. c.
A seminar giving in-service music teachers and supervisors the opportunity for class study of outstanding examples of the piano literature. The role and integration of the piano into the public school program along with suitable teaching materials for class and private study will be analyzed and used in demonstrations and student teaching.

Mus. 585 String Literature and Pedagogy 2 s. c.
This course is designed to give music teachers an understanding of the problems involved in teaching string classes. It is basically a study of techniques and methods required for the effective teaching of string classes.

Mus. 586-587 Vocal Diction (two semesters) 2 or 4 s. c.
First semester — English, Italian and Latin Diction.
A laboratory course to establish correct pronunciation in singing English, Italian, and Latin with practice in the use of the phonetics of these languages in selected standard song repertoire.
Second semester — French and German Diction.
The study of French and German as applied to singing and the acquirements of correct pronunciation through the use of the phonetics of these languages in selected standard song repertoire.

Mus. 588-589 Seminar in Music Education 1 or 2 s. c. each semester
(one or two semesters)

Special topics designed to meet the need for special study in the particular field of music are studied and analyzed in conferences, discussions, and independent work. Prerequisite: Eight credits of graduate work including "Current Trends in Music Education" and "Methods and Materials of Research."

b. Elementary Education Students

Mus. 572 Vitalizing Music in the Elementary School 2 s. c.
A course planned primarily for elementary teachers. It aims to prepare them to teach more effectively and to enrich the program of Music Education in the schools. This will be brought about through study of the various series of song and rhythm materials currently available for use in elementary schools. It will develop the basic knowledge of simple instruments such as the xylophone, autoharp, and percussion.

Mus. 573 Keyboard Activities for the Classroom Teacher 2 s. c.
Designed primarily for the elementary classroom teacher through a functional study of the piano. Grasp of fundamental principles of accompanying classroom singing, rhythmic and creative activities by studying and performing practical classroom materials.

Mus. 574 Teaching of Music Appreciation in the Elementary Grades 2 s. c.
A course designed for elementary teachers. It aims to provide suitable and available materials from which units of study for a specific grade are organized for the purpose of enriching the music program. Emphasis is placed upon the use of audio-visual materials.

c. Open to all Students

- Mus. 560 Study and Appreciation of the Opera 2 s. c.
Hearing and studying the opera from its origin to the present. Works from Monteverde to Gluck to Britten, Menotti, and Stravinsky will form the "repertoire" of this course. Greater emphasis will be placed on the most significant contributors to the development of the opera.
- Mus. 571 Music Criticism and Aesthetics 2 s. c.
Exercises in writing musical criticism and essays will be undertaken. Aesthetic concepts of different eras will be discussed.
- Mus. 580 Music in National and International Affairs 2 s. c.
A study of the spheres of influence of music throughout the ages with particular consideration being given to the socio-cultural aspects and the application of this knowledge to everyday life.
- Mus. 590 Study and Appreciation of The Symphony 2 s. c.
An elective course open to music majors and students from other departments and fields of interest. A course presenting the musical forms and literature of the symphony in an intelligible, stimulating, and enjoyable way. The course evaluates the basic instrumental forms which directly influence the development of the symphony and follows a comparative growth and expansion through the contemporary period in music. Paramount in the course is the non-technical approach to analysis and the development of meaningful listening procedures for a representative number of carefully chosen compositions from the standard literature for the symphony.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

H.E. 500 Methods and Materials of Research

A study of the techniques of research in education with specific application to the field of health, physical education and recreation. Prerequisite: A course in Measurement and Evaluation in Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

H.E. 501 Advanced Rhythmical Foreign Gymnastics

A comparative study of foreign systems of rhythmical gymnastics stressing music and rhythmical movement done in free style with hand apparatus such as balls, hoops, and wands.

H.E. 502 Elementary Physical Education Workshop

A complete orientation for the teaching of elementary physical education. Principles and practices will be presented and developed. A variety of appropriate activities will be considered from the standpoint of their use at various grade levels.

H.E. 503 Advanced Aquatics

This is a course for aquatic directors, physical education supervisors, recreation and camp directors, and school administrators. A prerequisite of a high degree of competitive skill is not necessary.

The course contains a clinical approach to the teaching and coaching of swimming, diving, and life saving with emphasis on the latest techniques of class organization and instruction. There are also an analysis of competitive diving and swimming strokes from the problem-solving viewpoint; a planning of an all-inclusive aquatic program for schools and camps; and a critique on facilities, equipment and personnel direction. Each student will also pursue a major area for research.

H.E. 504 Dance in Education

Contemporary use of all forms of dance found in schools. Opportunities will be given to develop programs in a specific area of choice. Resources in terms of a variety of music will be fully developed.

H.E. 510 School and Community Recreation

A study of community recreation with special emphasis on the role of the school in relation to the total program.

H.E. 511 Field Problems in Recreation

A study of the field problems commonly met in recreation. Each student will work in a specific problem area in a recreational field. Conferences and resources will be used in developing solutions to the problem. (Admission by approval of major professor and the Director of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.)

H.E. 512 Outdoor Education Workshop

A study of principles, procedures, and skills necessary to conduct an outdoor education program. Students will participate in and serve as leaders in a college sponsored outdoor education program.

H.E. 520 Advanced Coaching

A study of recent trends and changes in theories and techniques of teaching sports. Mechanical principles of efficient movement will be analyzed. Emphasis will be on research related to competitive performance. Specialists in several areas of coaching will serve as guest panelists in this course.

H.E. 521 Administrative Supervision of Interschool and Intramural Athletics

The organization and administration of athletic and intramural programs including the theory, principles, and objectives of various levels of competitions. Job specifications of athletic and intramural directors and the delegation and assumptions of responsibilities will be given detailed consideration. Practical operating policies and procedures for athletic administrators will serve as a basic guide for this course.

H.E. 530 Psychological and Physiological Basis of Motor Activity

A course devoted to the study and analysis of scientific data related to the selection, value, and techniques of instruction in physical education activities. Major emphasis will be on the basic scientific approaches to motor learning and the development of skill patterns. Prerequisites: Anatomy and Physiology I and II, and Applied Physiology or their equivalents.

H.E. 531 Adaptive Physical Education Workshop

The recognition of the atypical child as part of a total teaching situation. The nature and extent of common handicaps will be studied. Emphasis will be based upon positive application of activities in the physical education field to handicapped children individually and in groups. Students will be placed in the positions of assistant instructors in programs for handicapped children. Activities will include swimming, sports, and games. Prerequisites: Undergraduate psychology, anatomy and physiology courses.

H.E. 540 School Health Problems

A course designed as in-service training to study the current school health problems by using the Case Technique Method. A wide variety of materials, methods, and resources will be utilized in working on these problems. Prerequisites: One year's teaching experience or equivalent.

H.E. 541 School-Community Health Education Workshop

A study of common problems in the home, community, and school health education areas. The five-point program follows: to provide in-service training in health education; to stimulate and promote an effective follow-up program in health services; to coordinate the efforts of allied health agencies; to stimulate and promote interest in local health units; and to develop an awareness of the place of mental health in the total health program of the home-school-community.

H.E. 542 Health Instruction in the Elementary School

A course designed for both health education specialists and elementary school teachers. As the title implies, this course acquaints the student with the methods and content of the course of instruction in health in the modern elementary school.

H.E. 550 Foundations and Principles of Health, Physical Education and Recreation

The basic approach to health, physical education, and recreation through the study of past and contemporary philosophies, principles, objectives, and trends.

H.E. 560 Contemporary Problems in Health, Physical Education, and Recreation

An overview of the problems in teaching health, physical education, and recreation with specific relationship to in-service aspects. Emphasis will be placed on the factors and variables which influence solutions to these problems.

H.E. 561 Measurement and Evaluation in Health, Physical Education, and Recreation

The study of statistical and evaluative procedures and their application to the field of health, physical education, and recreation.

H.E. 562 Administrative and Supervisory Practices in Health and Physical Education

The nature and extent of the positions of directors or supervisors of health, physical education and recreation. The job specifications will be defined and operational principles and procedures will be developed.

H.E. 570 Curriculum Developments in Health and Physical Education

Contemporary trends in health and physical education curricula at the elementary, secondary and college levels. Extensive surveys, reports, and analyses of curriculum practices will be applied to the construction of health and physical education programs.

H.E. 580 Contemporary Practices in Safety Education

A course designed to evaluate and interpret research studies and practices affecting the teaching of safety education in schools and colleges.

H.E. 591 Seminar in Health, Physical Education and Recreation

To be taken concurrently with the development of a problem or a thesis. (Admission by approval of major professor and the Director of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.)

H.E. 592 Report.

H.E. 593 Thesis.

WITHDRAWALS

Any student withdrawing from a class without official authorization is automatically disqualified from the graduate program. He can be admitted to further graduate study only through application to the Graduate Committee.

EXAMINATIONS

As noted in the requirements for admission, examinations vary according to the classification of the student; e.g., degree candidates must pass specific comprehensive examinations. Every graduate student must accept responsibility for knowledge of the examinations required of him. The beginning student can determine the examinations required of him by examining the information listed below and by conferring with his department chairman. In no case shall the student assume that his adviser, major field professor, or graduate program official will notify him.

All students working for a degree are required to take four examinations; the Professional Background Examination, the General Culture Comprehensive Examination, the Admission to Degree Candidacy Examination, and the Area of Specialization Examination. In addition, however, some students will be required to take a general background examination.

An explanation of the examinations and the conditions under which they will be required follows:

1. Professional Background Examination — The Professional Background examination is constructed, administered and evaluated by the Department of Education. As the name implies, it is designed to evaluate the candidate's knowledge of the teaching profession. This examination is given in conjunction with the course entitled "Seminar in Educational Foundations."

Because this examination is furnished and graded by an outside agency, a fee of $5.50 is required.

2. The General Culture Comprehensive Examination — Every student working for a degree must take as part of the course entitled "Seminar in the Humanities" the General Culture Comprehensive Examination. This examination evaluates the student's background in those areas which are commonly termed "humanities." The results of this examination are used for diagnostic purposes.
3. The Admission to Degree Candidacy Examination — The admission to Degree candidacy Examination is constructed, administered and evaluated by the student's major departments. This examination must be taken, as stated elsewhere, sometime between the acquisition of six and fifteen semester credits. This examination is designed to determine whether the student is to be permitted to work for a degree. The examination is broad and comprehensive in nature, with the basic purpose of evaluating the student's knowledge and general competency in his major field.

The Graduate Record Examination or some similar test is given as part of this examination.

4. The Area of Specialization Examination — Sometime after the acquisition of twenty semester credits, the student may take the Area of Specialization examination which is required of all candidates for the degree.

The Area of Specialization examination is a comprehensive examination over the student's major field. The examination is constructed, administered, and evaluated by the student's major department. All details of the Area of Specialization examination are the province of the major department concerned. Degree candidates are urged to confer with their advisers concerning this examination at the earliest possible date.

The Area of Specialization Examination is usually given after the student completes his research report or thesis.

5. General Background Examination — Applicants for graduate courses who, in the opinion of the department concerned, have inadequacies in their undergraduate programs, may be required to take an examination to demonstrate adequacies of general background information. The nature of this examination will be explained to the candidate by his major department.

ADVISORY SYSTEM

The applicant for admission to the graduate program should think of the chairman of his department as his major adviser until such time as an adviser is assigned him.

As soon as the applicant has declared his plans to the chairman of his major department, he will be assigned as the advisee of a professor in his major field.

The student should think of his adviser as a counselor and as a graduate program official. The adviser must approve the student's course selections, he must guide the student in making decisions regarding examinations; and he must check the student's work against graduate program requirements. Although the adviser will help the student in every way possible, the student, nonetheless, must remember that the responsibility of completing graduate work is primarily his.

LIBRARY

Graduate students are entitled to the use of library facilities under the conditions prevailing in the undergraduate program. The student, therefore, should familiarize himself with library regulations at the earliest possible date.

Because many graduate students are on campus for only one day each week, some special privileges are granted in the borrowing of books. The graduate student however, must realize his obligation to conform with all library regulations.

HOUSING FACILITIES

Because this college rarely has any full time graduate students during the fall and spring semesters, no provisions for housing for graduate students are made for those semesters. Graduate students attending the summer session may obtain housing in the college dormitories at the usual fees charge of undergraduates.

Graduate students living on campus during the summer sessions are subject to all officially stated regulations concerning housing and related matters.

CULTURAL OPPORTUNITIES

The graduate student should avail himself of the cultural opportunities on campus and in the immediate vicinity. The college sponsors All Star Programs, lectures, entertainments, and other significant cultural activities. The immediate vicinity is rich in historical significance and other cultural advantages. Also, the student will find easy access to Philadelphia and its many museums, libraries, and similar facilities.

EXPENSES

The charge for tuition in the Graduate Program is $20 per semester hour of credit.

Graduate students desiring housing facilities at the College during the summer sessions may procure such facilities at the regular rates listed in the official catalogue.

Graduate students are also required to pay any fees (activity fee, library fines, etc.) required of other summer school students.

All fees are subject to change without notice.

MARKING SYSTEM

The marking system employed in the graduate program is the same as that of the undergraduate program.

- A — Superior
- B — Above average
- C — Average
- D — Passing
- F — Failure
- I — Incomplete

The following restrictions are enforced in the marking system: (1) the student must maintain a general average of at least 2.5; (2) grades lower than "C" are not acceptable in satisfying degree requirements; (3) courses which, for some valid reason (unavoidable absence during final examination, etc.), are not completed by the end of a given semester, must be completed before the close of the succeeding semester unless the Graduate Committee grants an individual exception this requirement.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS

All course requirements must be satisfied in residence.

This college does not offer any off-campus courses nor will it accept in transfer credits earned in off-campus or extension centers of other colleges or universities.

TIME LIMIT

All requirements for the graduate degree, i.e., Master of Education, must have been satisfied within a period of six years before the actual date of receiving the degree. In unusual cases, e.g., prolonged illness, the Graduate Committee may make minor exceptions. In no instance, however, should the student assume that such exceptions will be made routinely.

The existence of the six-year time limit makes imperative the settling of all details regarding the research report or thesis and similar matters at the earliest possible date.

REPORTS

Official reports are issued immediately after the termination of each semester for work taken during that semester. The student should consider these reports as an official record of his standing in the graduate program. Students should check these reports against grade requirements and other regulations pertinent to their particular case. When consulting with faculty advisers, students should have these reports at hand in order to facilitate questions which the adviser may have.

ABSENCES

Applicants for graduate courses should realize at the outset the importance of attending all classes. However, because the Graduate Committee realizes that emergencies may arise, a policy on absences has been constructed.

For courses meeting once a week, the student is permitted a maximum of two absences during the semester. In no case should these absences be thought of as "cuts". They should be considered, rather, as allowances for emergency conditions.

No absences are permitted during the summer session.

The student is held fully responsible for all work required for courses taken. Absences from class, therefore, do not constitute a valid reason for exemption from course responsibilities. Students absent from examinations for valid reasons should contact the professor concerned as early as possible in order to make up the examination.

CLASS HOURS

All classes for the graduate program are scheduled during the late afternoon, evening, Saturdays, and summer sessions. As enrollment warrants, the number of classes given during the regular academic year is adjusted accordingly. Most graduate courses, however, are given primarily during the summer sessions.

TRANSCRIPTS

Students wishing transcripts of graduate work at West Chester may obtain such transcripts by communicating directly with the Office of the Registrar. The regulations pertaining to undergraduate transcripts hold for the graduate program also, i.e., students should allow a minimum of one week in requesting transcripts; requests should be made in writing; and all pertinent information (full name, maiden name, curriculum, dates, etc.) should be given.

The cost is $1.00 per transcript. Checks should be made payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

PLACEMENT SERVICE

Every year the College Placement Service is notified of many positions of all types on all levels of instruction. Because many of these positions offer unusual opportunities for professional advancement, graduate students are encouraged to use the services of the Placement Office.

All students pursuing graduate work at West Chester are eligible for the use of limited services provided by the Placement Service. Students who have completed less than 15 semester credits have access to the listings of vacancies. Students who hold undergraduate degrees from West Chester and/or have completed 15 semester credits of graduate work are eligible for the full services of the Placement Service. The term "full services" includes registration, development of a complete set of credentials, and mailing of credentials to prospective employers.

There is no charge for the use of the Placement Service. Students wishing further information should visit the Placement Office. The office is open from 9 - 5 on weekdays and from 9 - 12 on stated Saturdays.
